Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a computer enclosure, and more particularly to a computer enclosure having a shielding function. 2. Description of the Related Art Referring to FIG. 1, a conventional computer enclosure 10 is shown to include a housing 11 having two parallel side walls 12, two front and rear walls 13, and two flanges 14 extending downward from both sides of the front and rear walls 13. A hinge assembly 15 is connected to the flanges 14, thereby to allow the housing 11 to open and close freely. Referring to FIG. 2, the hinge assembly 15 has an arched seat 16, a hinge bolt 17, and a hinge body 18. The hinge body 18 is fixedly connected to the front and rear walls 13, and the hinge body 18 has a pair of wings 19 extending in an open direction, opposite to each other, so that the arched seat 16 can be movably received in the space formed between the two wings 19, thereby to allow a computer (not shown) to be assembled with the housing 11. Therefore, the hinge assembly 15 allows the housing 11 to open and close freely so that the housing 11 can be disassembled and assembled on a desired desk, and the housing 11 is not easy to break. However
