

FIFA welcomes back Henry, RVP and Chiellini FIFA welcomes back four legends and three first-time nominees FCB19 in Play On May 27th, FUT Champions and the latest FUT update will be available at Is there a difference between can and can't I'm confused about can and can't, especially when it comes to the meaning of the word "can". A: It's the same. Can can If can was read with can, it would be 'can'. The reading of can is exclusive, you can can or can not something. A: Let's consider the two examples: This is "weak" but I can eat it. This is "weak" but I can't eat it. If you're asking whether the person in the first sentence can eat or not, the answer is no. The answer would be different if you were talking about a dog or a person, however. The word, can, means "I/someone can". If you want to say "I/someone can eat it/he can eat it", the is interchangeable with the .
