
HD Online Player (Coco (English) Download Movies) !!BETTER!!

if you don't see your downloaded videos right away (which is fairly often), 9xbuddy can help you find them. press and hold the menu button. now you'll see a list of all your downloaded videos and shows. swipe through the list to find the one(s) you want to play. note that amazon prime video content doesn't stream perfectly from its free trials — so you'll need to choose from the program from amazon uk . it also limits what devices you can access the free trial on, so make sure your phone, tablet, and computer are connected to the internet. once you have selected or downloaded your video, it's time to choose where you want to save your new movie on your computer. that's where the interface gets a little confusing, because amazon doesn't make it easy to choose where your movie will be saved on your hard drive. after choosing where you want to save the video, you should now be able to browse or download it to your hard drive. i had no trouble successfully downloading "orphan black" from amazon to my hard drive. the time taken to download was quite reasonable (10 minutes). once i was done with the download process, i went ahead and opened the file on my hard drive. i opened the file with leawo free video player to check whether i had a downloaded the right file. looking back, it may have been useful to check the file size before opening it on the computer. but that was not the case here as the file size was about 3.2 gb, which is a pretty decent size for a movie. the interface of leawo free video player is quite simple with just a few settings to worry about. an image of the movie appears in the upper-left hand corner of the screen along with a rating (out of 5). you can drag it left or right until you find the movie you want to play. i found the image and movie playing feature to be pretty intuitive.
